UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

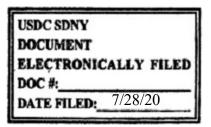

JOINT STOCK COMPANY "CHANNEL ONE RUSSIA WORLDWIDE,"

Plaintiff,

ORDER

BARBARA MOSES, United States Magistrate Judge.

Plaintiff's motion to seal (Dkt. No. 230) is GRANTED IN PART. Ms. Panfilova's medical records (Dkt. No. 231-1) shall remain under seal (ex parte). Although those records constitute judicial documents, as that term is used in Lugosch v. Pyramid Co. of Onondaga, 435 F.3d 110, 119-20 (2d Cir. 2006), they are relevant only to the question whether and when Ms. Panfilova must appear for deposition, and do not bear directly on the merits of this action. Moreover, they contain confidential details concerning Ms. Panfilova's health. I therefore conclude that the witness's privacy interests outweigh the relatively weak presumption of public access to her medical records.<sup>1</sup>

Sealing orders must, however, be "narrowly tailored." Lugosch, 435 F.3d at 120. The body of plaintiff's letter-brief dated July 27, 2020 (Dkt. No. 231), submitted in opposition to defendants' letter-motion to compel (Dkt. No. 228), does not reveal the contents of the medical records, nor any other details concerning Ms. Panfilova's illness, and consequently does not qualify for sealing. The July 27 letter, may not remain under seal and shall instead be filed in public view.

The Clerk of Court is respectfully directed to close the letter-motion at Dkt. No. 230 and unseal the body of plaintiff's letter (Dkt. No. 231). Exhibit A to that letter (Dkt. No. 231-1) shall remain under seal.

Dated: New York, New York July 28, 2020

SO ORDERED.
